10 TRIDENT: BRITAIN'S FORK IN THE ROAD?

Professor Keith Hayward FRAeS continues his series on the political punch-ups and subsequent lost opportunities suffered by Britain's post-war aircraft industry with a look at the protracted procurement of the Trident 1 for BEA

20 THE RELUCTANT OVERNIGHT HERO

100 years ago German airship SL 11 was shot down over Hertfordshire by 21-year-old Lt William Leefe Robinson RFC; First World War specialist Ray Rimell details the airship's fateful last sortie and its fiery demise

30 BLACK ON WIGHT

On a recent photographic sortie with Spitfire IX RR232, Richard Paver captured an image containing more than 110 years of British military history, as Mick Oakey explains

34 THE OTHER STOCKHOLM RUN

Scandinavian aviation historian Nils Mathisrud investigates Norway's semi-clandestine wartime transport service operated in concert — if not always happily — with BOAC

46 AN ENGLISHMAN IN NEW YORK

Our regular series based on newly-discovered rolls of film taken by aviation journalist John Stroud continues with a flying visit to see all-helicopter New York Airways in 1958

56 SPIES IN COLD WAR SKIES

Doug Gordon describes the early years of the West's Cold War strategic reconnaissance effort, in which Britain and the USA undertook a series of flights deep into hostile territory, from Korea to the Soviet Union and the Arctic

70 AN EYE FOR DETAIL: TO HELL AND BACK . . .

Juanita Franz's series on notable airframes and their markings continues with a profile of Hell's Angels, the first US Eighth Air Force Boeing B-17 to complete 25 missions

74 SILVER CITY IN THE LAND OF BLACK GOLD

Former Silver City Airways First Officer Ken Honey shares his recollections — and photographs — of a memorable two-year posting to the company's operation in Libya

86 HANDS ACROSS THE WATER?

Ted Oliver examines the true extent of technological co-operation between Nazi Germany and Imperial Japan, and explores why neither nation fully trusted the other

100 SIX DRAMATIC MINUTES OVER ANGOLA

August 1988: a BAe 125 carrying the Botswanan President to Luanda appears on the radar screen of a Cuban-manned Angolan MiG-23 Flogger — lock on — fire! Tom Cooper recounts what happened next . . .

106 WILLARD CUSTER & THE CHANNEL WING

Nick Stroud chronicles the uphill struggle of self-taught American inventor Willard Custer to bring his highly unconventional channel-wing concept to the world

120 ARMCHAIR AVIATION

125 LOST & FOUND

126 MACCHI'S SKY SCOOTER

Italian aviation historian Gregory Alegi traces the history of the diminutive Macchi-Nieuport M.16 biplane, three of which were ordered by the US Navy in 1921 to be evaluated for their potential use aboard submarines
